

Traditional Chinese and Western Medicine

June 21st, 2017
Warren Alpert Building 563 | Boston, MA

9:00 - 10:00 am	Round Table Discussion Jue Shi (HKBU) Timothy Mitchison (HMS) Helene Langevin (HMS)
10:00 - 10:30 am	Coffee Break
10:30 - 11:00 am	Abigail Sloan Devlin (HMS) Gut Microbiome
11:00 - 11:30 am	Artem Sokolov (HMS) Informatics Tools
11:30 am - 12:00 pm	Robert Everley (HMS) Proteomics
12:00 - 12:30 pm	Timothy Mitchison (HMS) Challenges, Opportunities, and Next Steps for Traditional Chinese Medicine

About our Sponsor:

Hong Kong Baptist University, Faculty of Science and School of Chinese Medicine

Hong Kong Baptist University (HKBU) is one of the eight government-funded public universities in Hong Kong and comprises eight faculties/schools.

The School of Chinese Medicine (SCM) at HKBU was the first in Hong Kong to offer undergraduate education in Chinese medicine and pharmacy in Chinese medicine in 1999, funded by the Hong Kong University Grants Committee.

SCM at HKBU is committed to providing high-quality academic programs, conducting cutting-edge research and technology development, offering first-rate Chinese medicine healthcare service, and contributing to the standardization, modernization, and internationalization of Chinese medicine.

Over the years, SCM has not only achieved a leading position in education and research of Chinese medicine but also provided top Chinese medicine healthcare services through 16 clinics all over Hong Kong.